CHILDREN'S MENTAL HEALTH WEEK 7th to 11th FEBRUARY

Having good mental health is so important.

It affects how we think, feel and act as we cope with life. It also helps determine how we handle stress, relate to others and make choices. Mental health is important at every stage of life.

Next week is national Children's Mental Health Week and so across school, from nursery onwards, the pupils are going to be carrying out activities every day that are designed to promote their mental health. The pupils are going to do this by basing their work around a particular book.

In EYFS the book being studied is called Kind by Alison Green.

In Y1 to Y6 the book being studied is called The Boy, the Mole, the Fox and the Horse by Charlie Mackesy.

These books are ideal for getting pupils to think about some of the main themes, such as the importance of being kind, being a good friend and the power of positivity. The book activities we have planned for the pupils aim to teach them the skills they need to maintain a positive mindset whilst taking care of their own wellness.

As part of Children's Mental Health Week, on Wednesday 9th February we are having a "Dress to Express" day. The pupils are invited to express themselves by wearing their own clothes, so they feel proud of their rich and diverse backgrounds by showing us their cultural clothes. On this day in particular, we want to promote the message 'happy to be me!' and thereby boost everyone's mental health.

On "Dress to Express" day we would like pupils to bring in 50p. All money collected will be donated to ChildLine, a charity very much focused on helping children and young people.

Thank you.
