This week at Cheetwood we've been celebrating all things mathematics as it's National Maths Week. We've challenged the children to solve problems, think about maths in their wider worlds and the skills to be a 'good mathematician'.

All classes have taken part in some amazing activities to explore and strengthen our love for maths and the skills to solve problems. Years 4, 5 and 6 have taken part in an online challenge with other schools, our younger year groups have completed maths activities combining our love of PE too!

We've deliberated long and hard and have celebrated one 'mathematician of the week' in our celebration assembly – well done to these super stars!

Please continue to support your children with this inquisitive learning to really build upon our positive attitudes for maths.

As always, thank you for your continued support.
